Bachelor of Individualized Studies

Degree Type(s)
B.I.S.

The Bachelor of Individualized Studies (B.I.S.) provides you flexibility in your degree program by allowing you to focus coursework on three areas, one of which may consist of courses outside of the College of Liberal Arts. With this program, you’re able to design your own educational path and choose areas of study that you’re passionate about and work closely with a B.I.S. adviser. The areas do not have to be related to each other, but you’ll write a program proposal that explains how the areas of study connect to your overall educational goals.

The College of Liberal Arts Advantage: More Than a Major
When you study for a B.I.S. degree in individualized studies at the University of Minnesota, you gain the added advantage of a College of Liberal Arts education. At CLA, the liberal arts mean you get more than just a degree in one major or another; it means you will be exposed to different areas of study, to different ways of thinking and learning. In fact, the liberal arts teach you how to learn—how to ask the right questions, how to problem solve, and how to innovate. The liberal arts prepare students for the complexities of our world, because here at CLA you will study not just, say, politics or art but also where politics and art intersect, where science and ethics intersect, where economics and the environment intersect.

CLA Graduates: Successful Careers and Purposeful Lives

CLA graduates succeed in many different careers — law, health care, medicine, business, government, teaching, advertising, arts and entertainment, international relations, and more — precisely because they understand how to navigate a complex and interconnected world. As our alumni explain below, “Being a good employee means being curious, and continuing to evolve, and learn, and educate yourself, and I can think of no stronger foundation for doing that than a liberal arts education.”

“An education in the liberal arts is a springboard to lifelong career success”
